

Sankhyiki Bhushan Award

Eligibility and Selection Procedure:

The Society honours outstanding scientists with the title of Sankhyiki Bhushan who have rendered distinguished service to the cause of Statistics and its application to Agriculture and allied fields. Nominations are invited from the members of the Society for the selection of Sankhyiki Bhushan Awardee.

1. This award is for outstanding contributions made by a person (i) in both theory and application, or (ii) in the improvement of the Agricultural Statistics System in the country, or (iii) other evidence of eminence already achieved in the discipline, as evident from the proforma filled up by the nominator. The Awardee should be an eminent scientist above 55 years of age as on September 30 of the year of the Award.
2. The nominations in a prescribed proforma (Proforma for Sankhyiki Bhushan Award) will be invited from Members of the Society. The nominations should reach the Society office latest by August 31 of the year of the Award.
3. After receiving the nominations, the Council will appoint a sub-committee to select the person for Sankhyiki Bhushan Award based on the contributions made, as reflected in the nomination.
4. The Council will discuss the proposal of the sub-committee and take a final decision.
5. The person(s) chosen for the Award will be conferred the title 'Sankhyiki Bhushan' during the Annual Conference or at a special function.
6. The award consists of a scroll, a plaque and a citation.
7. Normally only one award may be given in a year.

*Executive Council Members during their tenure will not be considered for any of the ISAS Awards. Further, none of the Executive Council Members will recommend anybody for award and also will not be member of any committee for such awards.